WASHINGTONVILLE LOCAL GLEANINGS

By Peter M. Herold.

A Lively Time in Bingville.
The liveliest time we have had in this village since the victorious close of the football season was pulled off Monday evening about 8 o'clock, sun time, when a merry bunch of men from the Sanitary Works at Salem came in to celebrate their recent strike victory.

They were not very well fortified with coin and could not afford to stand very long in front of the bar, so they bought a couple kegs of Crockett City and a few quarts of Overholt and withdrew to the upper floor of the Jumbo block to talk it over. After these elements had so blended as to form a fighting chemical, they concluded to clean out Atkinson's pool room, then burn the town.

But a former village council had resolved that should ruffians from other towns come here to disturb the peace, our citizens should be at liberty to assist the peace officers; and nothing suits a peace officer better than to furnish ammunition.

The Salem troops mobilized in front of the Lutheran church after two of their scouts had been cooped, and before the officers returned to the scene, Jo. Fast, two of the Candles, Jas. Atkinson, G. W. Allen and other home guards against the visiting troops to the guard house with bloody heads, loosened teeth and dislodged noses.

Mayor Stouffer opened court with a coop full of prisoners and dealt out justice by the yard. A tall one of the Salem bunch, with legs so long that he had to lay down the law to the court, but as the prisoners did not demand counsel, the self-constituted Blackstone was told to "dry" and he "dried."

Marshall Dalrymple, Policeman De-Jane, "Bruiser" Copperdill and others chased a squad of the retreating foes to every Stop between town and Riverside. Some of the old folks said: "This is too bad, for the good name of the town," but if outside towns want to come here, abuse their hospitalities and then "kill the goose that lays the golden eggs," they may regret their rashness when they come to seek more refreshments.

At any rate, a square fist fight is more honorable than "backbiting" and slandering of good names. Come again boys, but let the 13th of March be a horrible lesson physically and financially. Be good and you'll be happy.

An old philosopher who don't enjoy football games has since remarked that he didn't see much difference between the game here Monday evening and some of the games upon the local gridiron last fall, except that the umpiring and penalties were done after the game. Nobody had a collar bone broken; in both games there were cracked noses; there was more excitement here on Thanksgiving day than there was Monday evening; spectators paid to see the football game, while the visiting team paid it Monday night. Tommy and Mory did the tackling and Toddy did the penalizing. The old philosopher further remarked that if Monday's game was less than $200 receipts, the town is in the hole and will have to play another game with increased penalties. Tickets, please!

Spring begins next Tuesday, March 21.
John Woods was in Cleveland Saturday.

Garden seeds are exposed for sale in all the stores.

There will be a meeting of the Co-op. society tonight.

Fred Longbottom and Glen Davis were in Canton Monday.

Mrs. Catharine Herrmann is again able to do her own housework.

It is rumored that Grafton furnace will be idle for an indefinite time.

Wm. Boston is again able to be about greeting friends and neighbors.

A son came last Saturday to glad- den the home of Frank Spear and wife.

Mrs. E. Stouffer sold 160 bushels of wheat this week, and Manley De-Jane hauls it to Leetonia.

Orville DeJane of Cleveland called at the home of his uncle, Chas. De-Jane, and family on Monday.

Mrs. David Summerville of Alliance spent Sunday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rohrer, in this village.

Those who would place advertising matter in these columns free, should read the "Special Notice" on the editorial page.

An agent was here Tuesday trying to sell "hobble skirts" and "harem dresses," but if a sale was made it was on the Q. T.

David Levine, who kept a clothing store here about six months ago before locating in Ellsworth, Pa., was here over Sunday.

Jubal Tetlow has returned from Chicago to remain here for the summer, providing his health remains good during the base ball season.

Ex-Mayor Longbottom and wife spent Sunday in Sebring, where the home of their daughter, Mrs. Maggie Stahl, who has been seriously ill for a few weeks.

An 8 1/2 pound son arrived at the home of Wm. A. Cox and wife Monday evening, and the question is still unsettled whether the boy will be a gladiator, a painter or a paper hanger.

The Washingtonville band will hold a festival in Fisher's hall Saturday evening, March 25. Everybody enjoys good music, and if we want to have the band music to continue let us encourage the players.

Eugene Davis, a native of Delroy and a student at the Ohio State university, won the two-mile run at the indoor athletic meet at the Canton auditorium Friday evening under the auspices of the Canton Y. M. C. A. The meet was participated in by college students from all parts of Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Young Davis won the gold medal. He is the son of James P. Davis, a former mine inspector of this district and is now superintending the Buck coal mine just east of Salem.

John Candler and Glen Smedley were home over Sunday.

Daniel Moss of Beloit spent Sunday with his father and sister here.

Nature is no respecter of age. A Lisbon lady, aged 90 years, has the mumps.

John Simpson and wife of Cleveland were here Thursday and Friday with home folks.

The Choral Union of Leetonia will produce the "Holy City" on Thursday evening, March 23.

Stark has 54 rural carriers—more than any other county in Ohio. There are 41,000 in the country.

County treasurers must collect booze taxes in dry counties.

Willis Wilson, carrier of the Canfield R. F. D., was here with relatives between trains last Saturday.

Jimmy Winrose has the agency for the Cleveland Sunday Leader, that has been neglected here for several years.

Let everybody, from Salem to East Liverpool take notice: There will be no booze sold here on Saturday, March 25.

Friday, April 7, has been set apart as Arbor Day in Ohio. Teachers can get Arbor Day manuals of their county auditor.

H. L. Rotzel, of our R. F. D., in Green township, was in town Saturday selling spray pumps for the Deming company of Salem.

The skeleton of a human found in a box left in a shed by a medical student several years ago got Lisbon people "going" last Friday.

Fred A. Mountford of East Liverpool and Wm. Barr of Lisbon have joined the ranks of those in the danger zone near the city of Vera Cruz, Mexico.

The state tax commission has ordered the Columbiana county equalization board to reconvene and complete its work, and remain in session until March 26.

The "Blue Laws" are again to be enforced in Leetonia by the Civic League. Those who want ice cream cones and Sunday papers can come to Bingville.

Archie Ferguson has been appointed administrator of Marion Ferguson and has given bond for $11,000. W. S. Groner, W. E. Neff and Geo. Wied- muller will appraise the property.

Seven students will graduate from Columbiana high school May 19 when Dr. Carl D. Doney, president of Wesleyan university of Buckhannon, W. Va., will deliver the class address.

There was an unusually big crowd in town Saturday night, and the processions from Stop 11 after the 7 and 8 o'clock car assembled the day 19 going to the Canfield fair, except there were no ladies in the processions.

To save Theodore Mann from a workhouse sentence until a fine of $600 was worked out for conducting a speakeasy in Salem, Dennis O'Connor of this village took the mortgage on the Mann property and paid the fine.

Four old passenger coaches were brought here from Weehawen, N. Y., last week to be used as "trailers" on the Y. & O. electric line. They are now in the car barn being newly painted and adjusted to the service of summer excursions.

Voters of Green township, including the north side of Washingtonville, should not neglect to vote upon the good roads proposition on Saturday, March 25. Mayor Stouffer has posted notices at various places on that day. It is believed that the vote for good roads will carry in this village.

Harry Roller was home over Sunday from Canton where he is learning to be a core maker in Dick's Agricultural Works, and is attending business college at night. He has the advantage of good advice from his uncle, Morris Roller, and his aunt, Miss Alice Roller, both of whom have positions in that growing city. He witnessed the hypnotizing of three young men in the Canton Auditorium over the telephone line by a hypnotist talking from Pittsburgh.

The quadrennial (which is Latin, and means once in 4 years) weighing of mails in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri commenced March 1st and will continue 105 days. This includes all mail matter and will form the average for 4 years. Two hundred extra men have been appointed to assist the regular railway postal clerks. We feel for Dan Jackson, when he tries to do it all and give a square deal between Leetonia and Washingtonville.

United Mine Workers of sub-district No. 4 of district No. 6 of Ohio, closed a two days' convention in Alliance last week Wednesday afternoon when the 30 delegates present from Columbiana and Jefferson counties unanimously passed a resolution condemning the action of Senator J. J. Purinton, of East Liverpool, in voting against the screen bill. "A bill was killed in the senate by his vote," it was claimed. The miners also condemned the attitude of Senator Purinton against the eight hour women's bill. Delegates present reported that conditions in this sub-district are quiet, with no strikes and no indications of impending strikes. The wage scale will come up for discussion next year, when the convention will again be held in Alliance on the first Tuesday in March.

Mrs. S. J. Warner reached the 80th milestone of life's pilgrimage last Thursday, and the event was made memorable by her children and grand children working an agreeable surprise by all calling in together. There were 9 children, 18 grand children and 2 great grandchildren. She was the recipient of many valuable gifts and a beautiful bouquet from Mrs. Monday of Salem. The evening was spent with music and games. Her daughter, Mrs. Ida Thomas and sons John, Charles and Harry and daughter, Miss Hazel, all of Salem were present, Charles being accompanied by his lady friend. Her sons Elmer, Joseph and Charles Warner and her daughter, Mrs. Will Simpson, with their families, all of this village, joined in the social home gathering to appreciate the truth of the three grandest words in any language—Mother, Home and Heaven. All retired to their homes wishing grand- ma Warner many more such pleasant occasions.

Mrs. Mary Watson and her mother are laid up with grip.

Mrs. Alice Eyster is visiting her mother in Greenford today.

Three candidate took the Esquire degree in Welcome lodge Wednesday night.

Five bushels of nice yellow onion sets while they last at 5c quart at C. E. Holt's.

Ice formed Wednesday night, and mother earth is covered with a blanket of snow.

Mrs. Geo. E. Burton and son Leslie have returned from their visit in East Liverpool.

The J. D. Roller sale north of town on Tuesday was largely attended. T. Brudery has rented the farm.

The shaddock is much in evidence by patron of St. Paul's, whose annual day will be observed Friday.

Mrs. Burt DeJone has been ill for a few weeks under the care of her mother, Mrs. Lynn, from near East Lewisstown.

Pupils of our high school are practicing upon a drama entitled "Bound by an Oath" to be presented here April 14 and 15.

Mrs. Lydia Cox received a letter last Saturday from her brother, Wm. Hampson, at Murfreesboro, Ill., the first word she had from him for 25 years.

Miss Helen Welkart has received word from her brother, Ed. Welkart, and wife at Newburgh, N. Y., announcing the arrival of a little daughter in their home.

Markers for soldiers' graves in Columbiana county have been ordered by the commissioners, to be ready for Decoration day. They will be distributed to G. A. R. posts as requested.

Fifty thousand American trash will go to "Urip" next summer to see George crowned king. At this distance we would just as soon see George Crutcheff sworn in as township trustee.

J. N. Palfrey reached his 60th year Sunday, and the event was celebrated with a dinner and orchestra music. In addition to the members of his family present were O. P. Moore and John Andrews with their wives of this village, Ed. Crook and wife of Norton, and Geo. Keyser and wife of Columbiana.

Miss Lydia King will entertain the Ladies' Independent club Friday night. The orchestra will furnish music, and in addition to the regular members present they expect O. P. Moore and wife, John Andrews and wife, Mrs. Schnurberger and wife, Marie King, Jas. and Freda Palfrey of this place, and Chas. King and wife and John Detwiler and wife of Salem.

Sixty-five cases were filed against violators of the liquor and gambling laws in Salem, during the past two months by the Civic league, according to the report of the enforcement committee of that organization, given at a recent meeting. These cases were against 27 people, 10 of them being for gambling and the others for selling or furnishing liquor and for keeping places where liquor was sold or furnished.

The following item of local interest appeared in Saturday's dispatches from Washington: "W. H. Schmick, sentenced three years ago to spend five years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., for wrecking the First National bank at Leetonia, of which he was cashier, and Samuel C. W. Brown, who also pleaded guilty in February, 1909, to embezzling $5,000 of the funds of the Medina County National bank in that city, are to be paroled Saturday. The two men have been roommates and comrades since they were received at the prison."

Judge Chambers of Washington, D. C., was in Leetonia last Friday and Saturday arbitrating a difference between the Y. & O. R. R. company and its employees. The other members of the board are City Solicitor W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville, representing the men, and R. Ackerman of Springfield, O., for the company. About a month ago Congressman Alf. Avery and Howard Martin were charged with disobeying orders between Leetonia and Salem. But the public regards this as a flimsy subterfuge, and patrons of the road claim that Mr. Avery is an obliging man for the place and ask his restoration. The trainmen's union is also back of the employees, hence the investigation. The traveling public prefer a man of experience to green hands, although the latter may serve for a few cents less per hour.

In Memoriam.
At a regular meeting of Burnside Post No. 107, G. A. R., Department of Ohio, the undersigned committee presented the following preamble and resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Since our last meeting it has pleased our Supreme Commander in His infinite wisdom to call from our ranks our beloved and esteemed comrade, Thomas Longbottom. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved family of children of our deceased comrade, and further

Resolved, That the town and community have lost a good citizen and the children a kind and loving father and the Post an esteemed comrade and

Resolved, That we drape our chart- er for the period of 30 days and also that we send a copy of the above to be extended to the bereaved children of their deceased father and spread upon the Adjutant's Report and published in the Mahoning Dispatch and a death notice sent to the National Tribune Washington, D. C.
